

Protea Worldwide Flexible SNN QI Hedge Fund

Minimum Disclosure Document – Class 1

28 February 2021

Fund Profile

The fund is a flexible long/short equity hedge fund with the objective of generating above-average returns by following a 'quantamental' investment approach, combining traditional fundamental analysis with quantitative investment techniques. The investment manager systematically identifies individual mispriced securities whilst ensuring sufficient diversification to guard against inappropriate risk concentration. The fund has exposure to listed securities worldwide.

Investment Strategy

The portfolio is managed as a long/short hedge fund, focused on extracting alpha returns from equity markets worldwide. Its core strategy is to be long undervalued equities and short overvalued equities whilst ensuring that there is sufficient diversification to guard against inappropriate risk concentration. The equities are selected by following a "quantamental" investment approach, which combines a traditional fundamental understanding of the fair value of listed equity shares with analysis of the business's competitive environment, economic growth, broad economic themes and relative valuations.

*The inception date for the portfolio is 1 October 2015. The historical performance figures until the end of 31 August 2016 reflect performance achieved prior to CISCAs regulation. The portfolio has been transitioned under CISCAs regulations on 1 September 2016 and has since been managed as a regulated product. The annualized total return is the average return earned by an investment each year over a given time period, since date of the launch of the fund. Actual annual figures are available from the manager on request. The highest and lowest 1 year returns represent the highest and lowest actual returns achieved during a 12 month rolling period year since the original launch date of the portfolio. The performance figures given show the yield on a Net Asset value ("NAV") basis. The yield figure is not a forecast. Performance is not guaranteed and investors should not accept it as representing expected future performance. Individual investor performance may differ as a result of initial fees, time of entry/actual investment date, date of reinvestment, and dividends withholding tax. Performance is calculated for a lump sum investment on a Net Asset Value basis. The performance figures are reported net of fees with income reinvested. Jean Pierre Verster took over as portfolio manager from 1 September 2016 and the performance before September 2016 does not necessarily reflect his investment style and approach.

Market Commentary

The fund slipped by roughly 3% in February, versus the FTSE/JSE All-Share Total Return Index's 5.9% rise. The MSCI World Index rose 2.3% in Rands (ZAR) and 2.6% in US Dollars (USD). Our Longs made a positive contribution to the fund's return, but Shorts, Special Situations, Options and Currency positions all detracted during the past month.

Our performance since the end of October 2020 has been somewhat disappointing. We are up roughly 3% in USD but down roughly 3% in ZAR, due to the significant strengthening of the USDZAR exchange rate. We unwound our USDZAR hedge during November last year, which (with the benefit of hindsight) was premature. Our Longs have put in a strong performance over this time, but our Shorts have unfortunately detracted almost as much. We have endured a cyclical phenomenon where 'growth' stocks have significantly underperformed 'value' stocks since Pfizer announced positive vaccine news in early November. While the fund's performance over this 4-month period is nothing to get distressed about, most equity indices are up strongly over the same time period. This creates a feeling of missing out, which is only human.

Longs (grouped by listed currency) in Canadian Dollars (CAD), USD, British Pounds (GBP), Swiss Francs (CHF), Danish Krone (DKK), Norwegian Krone (NOK), Swedish Krone (SEK), ZAR and Japanese Yen (JPY) made positive contributions. Longs in Euros (EUR), Singaporean Dollars (SGD), Hong Kong Dollars (HKD) and Australian Dollars (AUD) detracted from performance. Technology companies were responsible for both our top-performing Longs and largest detractors for the month.

Shorts (grouped by listed currency) in SGD contributed positively, while Shorts grouped by USD, CAD, GBP, EUR, CHF, DKK, NOK, SEK, ZAR, HKD, JPY and AUD detracted from the fund's return. Our most profitable Shorts for the month were two companies driven more by hype than substance. Our worst Short was a Copper Mining company.

In terms of Special Situations, our Index hedges incurred a loss as markets continued to grind higher. We have identified an arbitrage opportunity with an attractive pay-off profile that should benefit us in the coming months.

Single-stock Options incurred mark-to-market losses, and we have converted some of our Index hedges to Index Options now that volatility has settled in a lower range from the expensive levels of the past year.

The translation of foreign cash balances back to Rand had a negative mark-to-market impact for the month, and we are positioned for ZAR weakness.

We are maintaining our focus on the long-term and continue to incrementally improve our 'quantamental' investment process for your benefit – thank you for placing your trust in us.

Fund Risk

Leverage Risk:	The Fund borrows additional funds, trades on margin or performs short sale trades to amplify investment decisions. This means that the volatility of a hedge fund portfolio can be many times that of the underlying investments due to leverage on a fund.
Derivative Risk:	Derivative positions are financial instruments that derive their value from an underlying asset. Derivatives are exposed to implicit leverage which could result in magnified gains and/or losses on the portfolio.
Counterparty Credit Risk:	Counterparty risk is a type of credit risk and is the risk of default by the counterparty associated with trading derivative contracts. An example of counterparty credit risk is margin or collateral held with a prime broker.
Volatility Risk:	Volatility refers to uncertainty and risk related to size of change of an instrument or portfolio. It is a statistical measure of the dispersion of returns for a given security or market index. Volatility is proportional to the directional exposure of a portfolio and is measured by Value at risk (VaR) which is a statistical technique used to measure and quantify the level of volatility.
Concentration and Sector Risk:	A large proportion of total assets invested in specific assets, sectors or regions. Concentrated positions or concentrated sectors in a portfolio will material impact the returns of the portfolio more so than diversified portfolios.
Correlation Risk:	A measure that determines how assets move in relation to each other. Correlation risk arises when the correlation between asset-classes change. Correlation risk also arises when the correlation within an asset-class changes. Examples of correlation within asset classes include equity pairs trading, fixed income curve trading and commodities pairs trading.
Equity Risk:	Applies to investment in shares or derivatives based on shares. The market price of shares varies depending on supply and demand of the shares. Equity risk is the risk of loss due to the drop in the market price of shares. Equity risk can either be systematic risk which is risk to the entire market based on political and economic indicators or unsystematic risk which is company specific and includes risk relating to company profits, future prospects and general consensus on the company or sector.
Currency/Exchange Rate Risk:	Assets of a fund may be denominated in a currency other than the Base Currency of the fund and changes in the exchange rate between the Base Currency and the currency of the asset may lead to a depreciation of the value of the fund's assets as expressed in the Base Currency.

Glossary

Net Asset Value (NAV):	Means net asset value, which is the total market value of all assets in a portfolio including any income accruals and less and deductible expenses such as audit fees, brokerage and service fees.
Annualised Return:	Is the weighted average compound growth rate over the performance period measured.
Highest & Lowest Return:	The highest and lowest rolling twelve-month performance of the portfolio since inception.
Total Expense Ratio (TER):	Reflects the percentage of the average Net Asset Value (NAV) of the portfolio that was incurred as charges, levies and fees related to the management of the portfolio. A higher TER does not necessarily imply a poor return, nor does a low TER imply a good return. The current TER cannot be regarded as an indication of future TER's.
Transaction Costs (TC):	Is the percentage of the value of the Fund incurred as costs relating to the buying and selling of the Fund's underlying assets. Transaction costs are a necessary cost in administering the Fund and impacts Fund returns.
Total Investment Charge (TIC):	Should not be considered in isolation as returns may be impacted by many other factors over time including market returns, the type of Fund, investment decisions of the investment manager.
Total Investment Charges (TIC%):	= TER (%) + TC (%): The Total Investment Charges (TIC), the TER + the TC, is the percentage of the net asset value of the class of the Financial Product incurred as costs relating to the investment of the Financial Product. It should be noted that a TIC is the sum of two calculated ratios (TER+TC).
Leverage/Gearing:	The use of securities, including derivative instruments, short positions or borrowed capital to increase the exposure beyond the capital employed to an investment.
Alpha:	Denoted the outperformance of the fund over the benchmark.
Sharpe Ratio:	The ratio of excess return over the risk-free rate divided by the total volatility of the portfolio.
Sortino Ratio:	The ratio of excess return over the risk-free rate divided by the downside deviation of the portfolio.
Standard Deviation:	The deviation of the return of the portfolio relative to its average.
Drawdown:	The greatest peak to trough loss until a new peak is reached.
Correlation:	A number between -1 and 1 indicating the similarity of the dispersion of returns between the portfolio and another asset or index with 1 being highly correlated, -1 highly negatively correlated and 0 uncorrelated.
Value at Risk (VaR):	Value at risk is the minimum loss percentage that can be expected over a specified time period at a predetermined confidence level.
